Our Products Grab Customers' Attention!

Advertising blimps and balloons provide the cost-effective advertising that today's businesses need to remain competitive. All of our outdoor products come with a 120 foot tether line, so that you can get maximum visibility.

Do you have a busy street nearby and need to direct traffic to your location? Put up a blimp with your logo. Blimps make it easy for customers to find you. Add a streamer of pennants and create a visual trail from your advertising balloon to your storefront.

Quality Fabric: We use a space-age polyurethane fabric developed for use by

NASA. Other manufacturers use PVC or coated nylon to make their helium advertising products. Our fabric is lighter yet stronger than our competitors. It resists fading, and you will save money on helium since our fabric is much less prone to helium bleeding. We could buy the cheaper PVC material rather than the polyurethane we use. However, we have a reputation of producing high quality products, and we think that reputation is invaluable. We are confident you will find your investment in quality worth the money when you see how long your balloon lasts and how well it retains helium. You will not be sorry that you invested a small amount for a high quality project.

Graphics: Our graphics department produces top notched images. Provide us a high quality image of your company's logo and see what we can do for you.

The printing costs on our price sheet is for one-color printing of up to 13 letters on each side of a balloon. If you email us your company logo, we will gladly provide a written quote of a completed balloon with that logo.

Custom Shapes: If its a custom shape you're interested in, give us a call. We have made hundreds of custom balloons from satellites to doberman pinschers. While you're on the phone, ask how our banner kits can increase the flexibility of your investment.

"A coworker and I tried to push a sharpened pencil through [your] fabric we finally got it through but it took some work!"
